Dear Audience

This is my first attempt at producing and it has proved to have been a great experience seeing a play take shape from the 'other side of the fence'

My task has been made much easier by the assistance from all the helpers behind the scenes and, needless to say, a great cast on stage - I do hope you enjoy seeing the play as much as we all have in preparing it.

The play is set today- in London and it takes a look at the lighter side of theft, particularly at the modern trend of the 'super thief'.
