
*
* THEATRE IN HENLEY *
*

HENLEY-IN-ARDEN AMATEUR DRAMATIC SOCIETY

PRESENT

"TRIAL AND ERROR"

by

KENNETH HORNE

On

MONDAY, TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY

21st, 22nd and 23rd NOVEMBER 1977

At

THE MEMORIAL HALL, STATION ROAD, HENLEY-IN-ARDEN

Commencing at 7.30 p.m.

CAST

MRS. O'CONNOR	(The Housekeeper)	Gill Ghee
DUDLEY	(A Visitor)	Paul Holton
CLAUDE	(The Bridegroom)	Graham Robson
ANDREA	(The Bride)	Jackie Boardman
GERTRUDE	(The Aunt)	Mabs Gooderick
BRIGGS	(A Girl Reporter)	Paulette Morris
RON	(A Photographer)	Ian Johnson

Prompt	-----	Barbara Cronin
Stage Manager	-----	Kristina Aukstolis
Properties	-----	Catherine Fox Assisted by Helen Wall
Lighting	-----	Peter Barton

THE PLAY PRODUCED BY GWEN WELLS

The action of the play passes in the Living Room of a summer residence somewhere on the Sussex Coast within easy reach of London, during a week in September.

ACT I.

Monday evening after dinner.

COFFEE INTERVAL

ACT II

Tuesday evening, before dinner

ACT III

Scene 1. Wednesday afternoon, before tea

Scene 2. Thursday afternoon, after lunch

Time : The Present

Once more the 'Gremlins' have threatened our first production of the new season. However after early casting difficulties we have managed to present this play for you under the direction of Gwen Wells - her first attempt at production.

The only thing that will stop us now is a power cut and I am glad to say that that is now extremely unlikely.

The play revolves around Dudley (Paul Holtom) who is an unwelcome guest at the honeymoon home of Claude (Graham Robson) and Andrea (Jackie Boardman) Dudley's arrival therefore causes untold damage to Claude's marriage to Andrea and is aggravated by Andrea's eccentric Aunt Gertrude (Mabs Gooderick). Other inconveniences occur such as the housekeeper, Mrs. O'Connon (Gill Ghee) and representatives from a local newspaper (Paulette Morris & Ian Johnson).

Any prospective new acting or audience members should please contact a member of the Committee who will be 'front of house' at each performance.

P.H.